Zimi is at school. Today they are learning about good friends. Zimi begins to wonder ...

Later, Zimi asks Tim, “Am I a good friend?”
“Yes, you are a good friend, Zimi!” says Tim. “Let me tell you why you are a good friend. You are always willing to share. You shared your lunch with me when I left mine at home.”

“You are so kind to me. When I am sad you comfort me. You give me big hugs. We always take turns when we play games. We have a lot of fun together.”

The more we get together, together, together,
The more we get together, the happier we'll be.
Because your friends are my friends,
And my friends are your friends.
The more we get together,
The happier we'll be.

(Sung to the tune 'Have you ever seen a lassie?')

“You help me when I struggle with Maths. We read together in class. You always tidy your part of the desk.”

“You always look out for our friends. You talk to people sitting on their own. You are there when someone needs help. You make others feel good about their day.”

“When we are in trouble, we tell the truth. We say sorry when we have done something wrong.”

“Wow!” exclaims Zimi. “Does that mean I am a good friend?”

“Yes, you are a really good friend, Zimi!” says Tim.

“I am so lucky to be your friend.”
